The General Secretary to the Government of Mysore, Bangalore.

Med.187-36-7

Sir,

I have the honor to state that there are several villages in the State with a population of one thousand and above where the need for systamatic arrangements for medical relief is as insistant as in the larger towns. The establishment of a regular dispensary in each of these villages cannot be a practicable proposition for a long time to come, owing to the heavy initial and recurring expenditure involved. In the meantime, as you are aware, the demand for extension of medical relief to at least all the Hobli Head quarters is being pressed upon the notice of the Government in successive sessions of the Representative assembly and Legislative Council. The representation finds an echo in the not infrequent resolutions of the village paychayets for the extension of medical relief into their areas. During my recent inspections in the Mysore District one or two village panchayets represented to me that they were in a position to conveniently spare an allotment of Rs.60/- annually from their funds and requested that weekly visits to their village by the nearest Sub Assistant Surgeon may be arranged. A general scheme of this kind applicable to all the larger village Panchayets who would be prepared to meet the incidental fixed travelling allowances of the medical man, seems to me to provide a satisfactory solution to all immediate needs. I accordingly propose that Sub Assistant Surgeons in charge of Local Fund Dispensaries may be directed to pay weekly visits to villages which are situated within a radius of six miles from the Dispensary not more than three such villages being entrusted to one Sub Assistant Surgeon, provided that each Village Panchayet concerned is agreeable to pay an allowance of Rs.5/- per mensem to to the Sub Assistant Surgeon for the extra duty.

At present the Assistant Surgeons visit the villages in their jurisdiction only during out-breaks of epidemics or extensive prevalence of illness, on receipt of requisitions from the Patels. They are however not expected to attend to other calls from the villages in individual emergencies. After the scheme is initiated, it will be open to the Chairman of the Village Panchayet to summon the Doctor to afford treatment in all difficult cases and in emergencies.

The Sub Assistant Surgeon shall fix a particular day in the week and remain in the village from 3 to 6 P.M. on that day attending to such of the patients as may resort for treatment. He shall keep a small stock of medicines, to be replenished from time to time from his dispensary stores and maintain proper records of the work done by him in the village. It will also be his duty to proceed to the village and attend to any emergent call free of charge and render medical aid. The Village Panchayet should provide a suitable room for keeping the necessary stock of medicines and also the furniture required.

The visits will be arranged only in the case of such Village Panchayets as may be certified by the Revenue Commissioner to be financially in a position to meet the allowance of Rs.5/- per mensem payable to the Sub Assistant Surgeon. If applications for extension of medical relief on these terms receive the approval of the Revenue Commissioner, the Senior Surgeon may be authorized to make all necessary further arrangements for the weekly visits by the Doctor.

I submit the scheme for the consideration and early orders of Government.

I have the honor to be,
Sir,
